LANS, Aug. 18.—As a result of want of buoyancy as have been an unsuccessful attempt of one to rescue the other, two unknown men were drowned off Sabal beach shortly after 11 o'clock today.

The bodies of both were recovered by Superintendent Anderson first noticed the two men playing cards late on the beach. Later he saw them bathing and warned them several times not to swim out so far into the ocean.

"The next I knew of them was when a man came running up, declaring he had heard cries for help from the surf. Mr. Reed and I put out in the lifeboat. We found both bodies floating in the surf, where, the witness goes on to say, they had been for some time."

The men were resident bathers. They did not take out suits at the lighthouse, but came to the beach in their own bathing suits, with no other clothing.

ated the idea of a "National League" years ago. It was thought that the two organizations could be merged into one, with the National League as the "little league" and the American League as the "big league." The idea was first floated in 1901, but it was not until 1902 that the two leagues finally agreed to merge. The merger was completed in 1903, and the National League and American League were born. The merger was a success, and the two leagues have since then been the dominant forces in professional baseball.
